

PERMITS FOR MONTH

JUNE SHOWS DECREASE OF $4615 IN BUILDING COMPARED TO LAST YEAR

In sympathy with the general decline of business the building permits of June show a decrease of $4615 compared with the same month last year. This is not to be wondered at. June is always a slow month in building and this year everything is waiting on the result of the general election. The total value of the buildings erected in Glendale in the month of June was $14,845. Twenty permits were granted. In March this year there were 26 permits with a total value of $25,850; in April there were sixteen permits, value $10,395. In May there were fifteen permits with a total of $10,642. ### MARK KEPPEL TO SPEAK

The Playground committee has been fortunate in securing as the speaker for the Fourth of July celebration, to be held on the Third street school grounds, next Tuesday afternoon, Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools.

Mr. Keppel is a man well worth hearing, an able and attractive speaker. Let as many of our citizens as possible attend these exercises. A complete program of the events of the afternoon will appear in the Glendale News on Monday.

BAPTIST S. S. PICNIC

In an auto truck and trailer the children of the First Baptist church and their friends went to Brookside Park, Pasadena, Saturday morning. The party was under the supervision of Roy Kent and numbered about 100. The party passed along Broadway about 10 a. m., all in great spirits and prepared to enjoy a good time amid the beautiful surroundings of the Pasadena resort, which is free to everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hunchberger and daughters Evangeline and Virginia, of 344 S. Central, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pearce, of 1559 Milford street, left this Saturday afternoon for Yosemite, California, where they will spend a month. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Taylor and two daughters of near Glendale left yesterday for the same place and will join the Hunchberger party at Fresno.

CURRENT LOCAL NOTES

QUEEN ESTHER GIRLS MAKE MERRY—W. B. KIRK MADE PRESIDENT

One of the pleasant picnics of the season was enjoyed Friday evening by the Queen Esther girls of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby, Mrs. Charles Shattuck, Mrs. John Wagon and Miss Ruth Pierce, the girls and their male friends went to Echo Park, where they enjoyed an excellent picnic supper. The young people then got boats and sailed on the lake. All returned in good time to Glendale. Those present besides the chaperons were: Leone Shattuck, Marian Addison, Waunita Emery, Margaret Lusby, Leone Brice, Mabel Robbins, Hattie Beckman, Emily Van Osdoll, Helena Schwarz, Jennie Lacey, Howard McGillis, Homer Morgan, Archie Latter, Harold Latter, Paul Richardson, Wilfred Long, Frederick Gray, Durland Brayton and William Johnson.

KIRK GETS BUSINESS

W. B. Kirk, special agent of the Provident Life Insurance company, 718 W. Broadway, has automatically been made president of the Provident Southern California Agents' Association, by reason of his having written the largest amount of insurance, in this district, during the last six months. Mr. Kirk has had a very prosperous year thus far and expects to keep up the excellent record he has just made. His business has grown steadily every year and the financial depression has only made him work harder.

HONOR BISHOPS HUGHES

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yarrick, the Rev. B. D. Snudden and Mrs. Snudden, the Rev. Julius Soper of Casa Verdugo, the Rev. H. J. Hartzell, Mrs. Morrison and the Rev. and Mrs. Goodell of Tropic, were guests at the banquet given Friday evening, in the banquet hall of the Broadway department store, in honor of the Rev. Matt Hughes, recently appointed a bishop in the Methodist Episcopal church, and of his brother, Bishop Edwin Hughes, recently translated from San Francisco to Boston.

VISIT SAN DIEGO

J. H. Woods and eldest daughter, Dorothy, left this morning for San Diego, where they expect to remain until Wednesday viewing the exposition and the other places of interest in and near the exposition city. Mr. Woods expects to make a special study of the horticulture and landscape effects on the exposition grounds, which are wonderful. Mrs. Nanno Woods was unable to accompany them owing to business engagements.

MUSICIANS OF LONG AGO

One of the most pleasing numbers in the "Cranford Ladies" playlet, given Thursday evening in St. Mark's church hall, was the piano duet by two dear old ladies, Mrs. George Eley and Mrs. Isaac Pearson, who impersonated respectively Lady Glenmyre and Mrs. Fitz-Adams in a very creditable manner. Both of these ladies, who are grandmas, were musicians in their girlhood days and still play wonderfully well considering their years. Mrs. Pearson was an organist for more than forty years in an Episcopal church in Missouri.

TAMING A GOPHER

W. M. Platt, of 427 S. Brand boulevard, has succeeded in taming a gopher, which now comes out of its hole when called and feeds out of his hand. The little animal shows no fear whatever when approached by its tamer and nibbles away at the food given it in perfect confidence. Mr. Platt had some difficulty in getting the gopher to this condition of tameness but succeeded by patience. The gopher is a fine specimen of its active race and will have a longer lease of life than some of its kindred that are devoting their attention to the destruction of garden crops.

TRUCK SLIGHTLY DAMAGED

While at the wheel of their light truck, Hearn Robinson, of Robinson Bros. Transfer and Storage Co., had a collision with another machine in the vicinity of Playa del Rey Friday evening. No one was hurt and the damage to the truck can easily be repaired.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Sunday; westerly winds.

BRITISH AND FRENCH COMBINE IN GREAT SMASH ON THE WESTERN FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, July 1.—The German crown prince launched a new smash at Verdun today and the most violent fighting in many weeks is raging. Great masses of German troops have been sent to endeavor to capture the trenches on hill 304 but they have been repulsed. East of the Meuse the German troops managed to reach the Thiaumont trenches recently recaptured by the French, but they were promptly thrown out in the counter attack. The British and French are making a conjoint attack on the western front. For several days the British artillery has fired a million shells a day, smashing and demolishing the German barbed wire entanglements. It is reported that the eleventh Bavarians refused to attack again at Verdun and have been sent to the Riga front. This is not confirmed.

NAVAL BATTLE RAGING IN THE BALTIC

RUSSIAN AND GERMAN NAVAL SQUADRONS CLASH WHEN TEUTONS SEEK TO REINFORCE HINDENBURG

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

COPENHAGEN, July 1.—In an attempt to bring troops for the reinforcement of Von Hindenburg, a German squadron of cruisers and battleships clashed with Russian torpedo boats and destroyers. German reinforcements strengthened the Teutons and the Russians had to withdraw, but came back with additional strength and the battle was renewed. The fight was still raging at noon. A Russian torpedo boat captured the German liner Harmonides.

The governor was speaking to a group of citizens and soldiers at Eagle Pass. He expressed the opinion that it would require but a little common sense and forbearance to have all the difficulties of the present situation smoothed away.

BRITISH GUNS SMASH GERMAN TRENCHES

TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT OF TEUTON POSITIONS ON THE WESTERN FRONT CONTINUES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, July 1.—Using a million shells a day, the British guns are steadily pounding away at the German trenches on the western front. The bombardment was kept up all day Friday and all night. Investigation showed immense damage done to the wire entanglements of the German trenches. The British and French are beginning a grand offensive. The city of Nancy was shelled all night by German long range guns that suddenly became active in that direction.

ITALIANS CONTINUE THEIR OFFENSIVE

RESERVES OF 1882-1895 CALLED OUT AND FRESH EFFORTS WILL BE MADE TO BREAK UP THE AUSTRIANS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

The reserves of 1882-1895 have been called to the colors. Austrian aeroplanes have been active recently; a small squadron bombarded Udine Friday night, doing some damage.

SERIOUS SOCIALIST RIOTS IN BERLIN

TEN PERSONS WERE SHOT AND FIFTY ARRESTED IN CLASH WITH TROOPS OVER LIEBKNECHT'S SENTENCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, July 1.—Serious rioting went on in the Potsdammer Platz, Berlin, yesterday, from morning till night. Ten persons were killed, a great many were wounded and fifty were arrested and thrown into prison. The people, who were mostly socialists, assembled to protest against the sentence of Herr Liebknecht, the socialist leader. The troops charged the crowds again and again and finally fired into the masses of people. Disturbances also took place in Leipzig, Stuttgart and Essen.

CARRANZISTAS MOVING ON AMERICAN TROOPS

EL PASO, July 1.—Carranzista troops of the southern states are being moved nearer the contracted American line.

TROPICO IS PATRIOTIC

TWENTY-FIVE ELIGIBLE RECRUITS JOINED THE VOLUNTEER COMPANY

All that was wanted Friday night to have rendered perfect the march of the Glendale volunteers to Tropic and back to get additional volunteers for the company that is being raised in this city was the Glendale band. The Glendale band was giving its concert at the city hall. This was the reason why the company was deprived of its expert bugler, Charles Shropshire, who had exhibited his perfection in bugle calls on Thursday at the Fire House. Notwithstanding that the company had to march without music it was enthusiastic and made the hike to Tropic in good style and at a good pace, keeping its ranks and eliciting an ovation of auto horn calls as it marched past the Glendale city hall.

At Tropic the Glendale company filed into the city hall and held a most enthusiastic meeting. Captain Johnson gave a stirring address explaining the situation in the country which made necessary the raising of troops and explaining that the present signers of the roster would be drilled and trained and made ready for any emergency.

J. V. Griffin then addressed the gathering, explaining that in order to face the situation in Mexico the United States had been compelled to send into that country every regular soldier in the country and besides to call out the militia of the various states; while it was doubtful if there were even now sufficient men to handle the situation there. He stated that this movement would get ready a regiment of volunteers drawn from Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, Pasadena, Glendale and Tropic. Already these centers had responded eagerly to the call and some of them had succeeded in raising several companies. Glendale had contributed 40 men already and Tropic would doubtless do its duty.

W. J. Hibbard of Tropic said that Tropic was a patriotic center and its Grand Army post was one of the most enthusiastic in Southern California. He said that the country needed something to waken it up to the condition of defenselessness in which it found itself and he therefore welcomes this movement and would support it with all his power.

A card from John J. Weiler, a veteran who served four years and five months in the Civil war, was read, in which he offered his services at this crisis.

The company, strengthened by the Tropic contingent, then marched over to the K. P. hall, where another session was held, amid much enthusiasm.

Mr. McGee of Glendale roused the spirit of the meeting by an appropriate speech in which he stated that nothing had saved the lives of the American prisoners taken at Carrizal except the determined mobilization of the United States militia and their dispatch to the border. He was heartily in favor of handling the situation firmly and deprecated the policy of sitting down and idly waiting for something to happen.

John A. St. Clair of the Glendale News gave a stirring address in which he told of the defenselessness of the Pacific coast and the need for a comprehensive and strategic plan of protection for this and for all other sections of the country.

The whole tone of the gathering was patriotic and enthusiastic and as a result of the evening's proceedings the following volunteers were added to the roster:

Arthur J. McAdams.
William Dixon.
Robert Danner.
Arthur J. McAdams.
Roland Dimmick.
William H. Moore.
G. W. Gould.
E. M. Polley.
L. E. Davis.
W. M. Crawford.
W. J. Hibbard.
Edwin C. Fairchild.
Frank E. Budway.
Edward R. Best.
Howard H. Bradley.
George J. Tauxe.
John J. Weiler.
Walter T. Johnson.
S. A. Haviland.
W. R. Blair.
C. L. Edwards.
William Dutton.
Charles M. Allen.
Roland Walters.
D. C. Lovell.

It was explained to the various meetings that the men desired for active service would be between the ages of 18 and 35, but that in times of emergency men up to 45 would be accepted. Those who have volunteered and are over the military age will probably be formed into a home guard and will have the task of tak-

TO PRESERVE TIRES

G. H. BENTLEY AND G. O. FOWLER FORM PARTNERSHIP TO MANUFACTURE MILTONITE

Another local industry is about to be started. This is the Miltonite company, a corporation that has been formed for the purpose of manufacturing Miltonite, a preparation intended to be used in automobile tires, for the purpose of filling punctures. This company has been formed by George H. Bentley of the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, 1022 W. Broadway, and G. O. Fowler, a successful business man of California, who has made his home during the past few years on Chestnut street, Glendale.

This new compound is the invention of Charles Milton, a German chemist and mining engineer, who is at present engaged in his business at Swansea, Arizona. Mr. Milton was engaged quite a considerable time in his experiments for the purpose of producing a satisfactory preparation for the handling of tire leaks and was successful in finding the preparation now known by his name.

This preparation has been patented and will be manufactured in a factory in Glendale. The headquarters of the company is at 1022 W. Broadway. Arrangements for the completion of the incorporation are being made and the company will soon be at work on the manufacture of this compound, which is said to possess wonderful qualities in the way of stopping leaks in tires.

The preparation is in the form of a powder which is put up in tubes. It is said to have an excellent effect in preserving the rubber. It also reduces the heat in the tire caused by friction at least 50 per cent, thus also adding to the life of the tire. Those who have used it say that it is neither sticky nor gummy and that it assists in keeping an even pressure in the tires and thus gives them more extended life. For stopping of punctures readily and instantaneously it is unequaled.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY

Miss Coral E. Griffith, 1321 Valley View road, and Mrs. H. W. Yarrick, 1447 W. Third street, entertained at a very enjoyable double birthday party at the home of Miss Griffith, Friday afternoon. This is an annual affair. The Griffith residence was beautifully decorated. The color scheme was yellow and was carried out in the rooms and the table decorations. The yellow coreopsis was plentifully utilized. The place cards were handpainted butterflies mounted on slender wire that hovered over the table as if alive. An exquisite three-course luncheon was served. Miss Griffith and Mrs. Yarrick were presented with a number of beautiful gifts. Those invited were: Mrs. H. V. Everly, Mrs. Frank Cross, Mrs. Frank M. Echols, Mrs. Eugene Murman, Mrs. Harmon A. Anderson, Mrs. Howard Oswald, Mrs. Gustave M. Johnson, Mrs. Abner T. Offut and Mrs. Edgar A. Bailey of Los Angeles.

EPISCOPAL S. S. PICNIC

St. Mark's Episcopal Sunday School enjoyed its annual picnic Saturday, July 1, at Griffith Park. The children to the number of 75, accompanied by parents and friends, started from the church, in a truck and trailer, under the direction of Principal Richardson D. White. At the park the usual picnic sports and amusements were enjoyed and the whole party enjoyed themselves among the wonders of that beautiful and spacious recreation ground.

DEATH OF MRS. CHANDLER

Passed away at her residence, 130 West Acacia avenue, Tropic, at 8:15 p. m., Friday evening, June 30, Mrs. Clara Belle Chandler. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Mr. H. E. Chandler, and five children. Funeral services will be held at the chapel of the Scovern-Letton-Frey company, Tropic, Monday at 2 p. m. Interment will be at Forest Lawn.

ing the place in home defense left vacant by those called to the front.

The company marched back to Glendale in good order and in high spirits and dismissed at the fire house. The company will meet Thursday, next week, for drill at the Thom packing house on First and Glendale, which has been donated free by Mr. Thom while the city furnishes the electric light free. Meanwhile recruits desiring to join can hand their names to Captain Johnson, at Johnson & Lyons grocery, or at the Glendale Evening News.

PRESENT WAR AND EDUCATION

It is declared by many authorities that nothing is more marked in the present war than the sensitiveness of the various antagonists to the charges of violations of treaties and the established law of nations. The combined action of modern powers represented generally by the head conference has developed this sense of responsibility. This is a great step in the progress of the world. On those who administer education in this critical time rests the responsibility of preserving and advancing those ideals for which all civilized nations are striving.

It is concluded from this that in times of peace it would be wisdom to cultivate this sensitiveness of national conscience in order that it may ultimately develop into a tenderness of international conscience that may lead to the abandonment of war altogether.

It is noticeable in individuals that even the most refined and highly educated will, in the heat of youthful blood, be indifferent to the shedding of blood, but that as they ripen with years and mellow by experience it would be impossible to draw them into a quarrel.

It should be the same with nations. Many, if not most of them, are in the heat of youth as far as fighting goes. They long for material wealth. They long for more territory and more power and scruple at no means to attain their end. The more cultivated nations are not so anxious for war. They have been so little anxious for it that they were caught unprepared in the face of a foe that had been preparing for war for forty years.

Time, however, is on the side of the more reasonable spirit. It is being found that war does not pay. At the end of this present war the most aggressive nation in Europe will find that it has missed the mark and that its aim to subdue the world has led to its bankruptcy. In any case the war that was calculated on to bring wealth and power has brought nothing but expense and the death of the nation's finest citizens.

Nothing justifies such conditions. By and by even the most nonprogressive must see that. There is no profit in modern war where men are slaughtered by the million and where national debt is piled up by the billion. It is felt to be utterly wrong to mortgage posterity for the sins of the present generation. Yet that is what the present war is doing in every country.

Therefore it seems reasonable to educate the rising generation in such principles as will enable them to realize the iniquity of war and also to see the futility of such desperate fighting as is now going on in Europe where affairs have been in a deadlock for eighteen months and where nothing is being established by way of principle except that modern men are as willing as any race of the past and even more so to sacrifice themselves for their countries' ideals.

If anything could bring on the time when the nations would dwell in peace it would be well to cultivate it; but the process will be slow. The old Latin proverb "nihil per saltum"—nothing is done by a single leap—is as true now as when it was uttered. In the face of peace declarations the American nation has shown that it is ready to go to war and such will be the case until the time has come when national distinctions have ceased, at least as items of rivalry, and the whole world is working for a common cause and a common good in "The parliament of man, the federation of the world."

SOME VALUABLE CALIFORNIA CROPS

It has been found that the soil and climate of Northern California are eminently suited for rice growing. There are large sections of lands in the vicinity of Biggs where successful cultivation of rice has been demonstrated. From one planting a yield of 3000 pounds per acre was harvested. This rice was awarded the gold medal at the Seattle exposition in 1900. Plantings made in 1910 justified the expectations of those interested both as to yield and quality.

Commercial plantings began in 1912, with 1000 acres, yielding approximately 3,000,000 pounds. In 1913 6000 acres were planted with a yield of 19,200,000 pounds. According to the report of Mr. George E. Harvey, secretary of the Pacific Rice Growers' association, the rice grown in the State of California for the season of 1915 comprised 30,000 acres and made an approximate yield of more than 800,000 bags—about twenty-seven sacks to the acre. Of this, a considerable part was grown in Butte county and a large quantity in the Sacramento Valley.

There are seven rice mills in the State having a capacity of approximately 5000 sacks of rough rice per day of eleven hours. The outlook for the season of 1916 is that there will be between 80,000 and 100,000 acres planted to rice in the State and that the total yield will approximate 2,500,000 bags.

It is estimated that about 200,000 acres in California are suited to the production of rice. The ordinary yield per acre in the Sacramento valley is about 2000 pounds, although some growers report as much as 8000 pounds per acre. The leading counties are Butte, Colusa, Yuba, Glenn and Yolo. In Butte county, it is estimated that the cost of growing the crop is $21.55 per acre; cost of harvesting, threshing, etc., on a basis of 3500 pounds per acre, is $15.75; total cost of production, $37.10 per acre. Taking an estimated value of $70 as an average net price the net profit is approximately $32.90 per acre. The United States department of Agriculture gave California fourth rank in the production of rice in the United States in 1915. The average yield per acre was 66.7 bushels, while the nearest competitor produced an average of only 48.4. There seems little doubt that the production of rice in California will assume greater proportions henceforward from year to year. The crop requires considerable attention but the rewards are sure.

Here is a chance for California flower growers. There is no country where finer roses, violets, and other perfume-giving flowers can be grown in so great abundance and without fear of disas-

SAVE THE WASTE

At the urgent request of the paper manufacturers of the United States, the Department of Commerce has issued an appeal to the American people to save their old rags and waste paper. The price of paper has mounted steadily of late, and waste rags and paper, if properly conserved, can help keep the price down by increasing the supply of material from which paper is made.

The Government has set an example by the formation of an "inter-departmental commission" to handle the situation. The Departments of Commerce and Agriculture are beginning experiments through which they hope to discover new sources of material from which paper can be made.

The paper stringency has hit England severely, and the authorities are discussing the matter of restricting the size of the English newspaper in order to husband the supply of white paper.

It has been claimed by the investigators that European families can live on what an American family wastes, and the Department of Commerce has called attention to a source of waste which can be easily stopped. To show the value of waste of this sort, it may be stated that a New York contractor now pays nearly $20,000 a year for the privilege of raking the dumps to recover things having commercial value.

An English scientist who has been investigating the oil-bearing deposits of New Guinea has found evidences of petroleum extending over an area of 1,500 square miles. He has recommended to his government that steps for the development of this field be taken as soon as possible, as it promises to be a highly fruitful source of supply of oil at a time when the supply elsewhere in the world is diminishing rather than increasing.

Engineers have constructed in Brazil a unique cableway which gives passengers, in transit, sensations similar to those attendant upon an aeroplane or balloon voyage with much lessened danger. It is known as the Sugar Loaf Aerial Railway and is located near Rio de Janeiro.

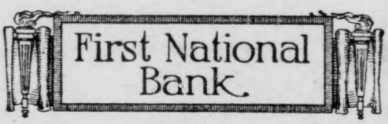

The view from the cars is said to be unusually impressive.

ter from the weather. Meantime the other countries where perfume-giving flowers are grown are finding themselves with only half a crop on account of the difficulty of getting laborers to gather the flowers. Orange blossoms, for instance, which are the basis of so many perfumes, have been allowed to remain on the trees, and the season for gathering them is past. What a chance for California. Think of the perfume that might be made here. From the abundance of the orange blossoms perfume as rich and rare as that grown in the Riviera could be obtained. Then, too, there would be an avoidance of all the trouble it sometimes is to care for the fruit in days of falling temperatures. In the Riviera there are 1600 growers who will suffer heavy financial loss on account of the war, labor and water shortage. This is an industry that California might well take up. It should not be difficult to get experienced distillers to start the industry and with its fine climate and plentiful supply of water Southern California might add one more to the list of its growing industries.

"How much?"
"Well," said the clerk, "if you want the empty bottle it'll be one cent, but if you have something put in it we won't charge anything for the bottle."
"Sure, that's fair enough," observed Jerry. "Put in a cork."

The Quality Grocery, of which Archie Parker is proprietor, closes a very successful two-days' demonstration of Bishop's crackers and cookies this evening. The event was thoroughly advertised and the response was exceedingly generous.

TRAINLOAD OF SALMON

A sufficiency of Puget Sound and Alaska salmon to supply the fish order for 9,600,000 persons at table left Seattle recently for New York City aboard fifty cars. It was regarded as the largest solid train of salmon that ever left the north coast.

Much of the fish was destined for Europe, although some of it will be sent to the large consuming centers of the Atlantic seaboard. The contents of the fifty cars represented an outlay at wholesale prices of $250,000.

THE "MON-AUTO"

The "Mon-Auto" is a new contrivance brought out recently by a Baltimore inventor. It stands about the height of an ordinary chair, and is four feet in length. The main tube, running lengthwise, forms the supply tank, with a capacity of one gallon.

The machine weighs only fifty pounds, and it is said that on one gallon of gasoline it will run seventy-five miles. The motor is of two and one-half horse power—affording a maximum speed of twenty-five miles an hour. The frame of the little car is light, but it is constructed of steel and will support quite a heavy load.

One backward motion of the handle-bars throws out the clutch, throttles down the engine and applies the brakes. The engine, after being started by a self-starter, is put to work by a reverse operation; the handle-bars are moved forward, and the farther forward, the faster the speed.

TOO EASY-GOING TO BE RIGHT

Mere good-nature is not the end for which the world exists. Nor is it the law by which we should control our conduct. There is a "good-natured" tolerance of evil in other men, by which we help them to their sins, and become their passive accomplices. There is a "good-natured" lying, which seems to say what is pleasant rather than what is true, and it undermines social truthfulness. There is a "good-natured" endurance of encroachment upon rights, which we should guard, not for our own sake so much as for that of society. And there is a "good-natured" avoidance of honest testimony against the world's evil, which reduces us to mere ciphers in the battle for the kingdom of God. There is need for all the really "good-nature," the courtesy, the cheerfulness, the brotherliness, we can muster. But for this vicious "good-nature," which seeks only the pleasant and the easy, neither earth nor heaven has room or need.—S. S. Times.

ZULU TRAITS

It is said that the Zulu people make up one of the finest tribes in South Africa. The Zulu has a sturdy frame, a strong chest, wonderful digestion, magnificent teeth, and fine muscles. He can stand hunger, fatigue, and exposure. While he is slow to adopt modern methods of tillage, irrigation, and fertilization, he is beginning to recognize their advantages.

The Zulu hospitality, sense of humor, good temper, love of children, and trustworthiness are all good traits in his character. In general he is law-abiding and not purposely cruel. He has a strong musical sense and a remarkable knowledge of time and rhythm.

The Zulu knows a good deal about some things, but what he does not know of matters of common knowledge among white men is appalling. His instructor is always running up against a high wall of ignorance concerning things of everyday knowledge among the whites.

SAFETY MEASURES

Constantly increasing value is being placed on inventions and methods designed for conserving human life and health in the industrial world. Voluntary efforts on the part of industrial managers to give justice to their employees are quite common at the present time. The bulletin of the New York State Industrial Commission says that safety in factories and plants, humane treatment of employees, modern sanitation, reduction of occupational disease, are all indications of progress and that it is a sign of the times that the latter-day manufacturers do not have to be driven into these humanitarian efforts by force of the law, but are putting them into use of their own free will, as a matter of sound business methods.

One of the signs of the times is the award of the Lewis Livingston Seaman Medal, of the American Museum of Safety, "for progress and achievement in the promotion of hygiene and the mitigation of occupational diseases," to the Diamond Match company.

ON THE MOUNTAIN TOP

We had the privilege of spending last Sunday in Ebsenburg on the top of the Alleghenies. The mountains are flung round about it in a blue horizon line, making it beautiful for situation. The air is crystal clear and has in it a tonic that in the summer draws visitors that fill the summer hotels that now stand empty. The mountain forests creep up close to the town on some sides, and we plunged into them. The season is less advanced than down on the plain, so that there were few leaves and flowers; but the oaks and elms and beeches and pines stood up in their naked strength and beauty and drew themselves out in grand cathedral aisles. The woody odors of the forest mold scented with the pungent pines were delightful to the sense. A spring gushed out of the mountain side and started leaping and singing towards the sea. One tiny yellow flower was found peeping up through the littered forest floor, secure and serene in the keeping of the mighty forest that upheaved the mountain for its bed and swung over its golden cup the sun and stars. In truth, the whole solar system was revolving around that wee modest flower, and all God's omnipotence upholds and environs us as we lie in the Everlasting Arm.—Presbyterian Banner.

HE HAS BEEN STEAMBOATING ALMOST SINCE FULTON'S TIME

In the June American Magazine is the story of Captain Grant P. Marsh, "the grand old man of the Missouri River." He has been steamboating since 1846 and has covered thousands of miles on western rivers. In the winter of 1858-59 he served as mate on the famous steamer "A. B. Chambers," of which Mark Twain was pilot. He has gone on expeditions against the Sioux Indians and was a friend of Custer. Since that time he has been continuously engaged in Upper Missouri River steamboat traffic and is still in active service.

KELP INDUSTRY IN SCOTLAND

With the endeavor to further all national resources and to encourage home industries, an attempt is being made to revive the manufacture of kelp. This substance much used in commerce was obtained by the burning of large quantities of Laminarian seaweed, and from the ash certain products were in turn extracted. Up to the year 1843, the kelp industry was the source of considerable prosperity to those who made their home amongst the western islands of Scotland along the Atlantic seaboard, but this trade disappeared almost entirely with the introduction of barilla, the ash of a marine plant called "salsola soda," which was imported in great quantities from Spain.

In the kelp-making industry, as it is now, there are two distinct processes, one dealing with the stem of the seaweed, which is sometimes six inches in girth and measures from six to seven feet in length, and the other dealing with the fronds. That dealing with the stem is the most lucrative and better known. The tangle is gathered, the fronds broken off, and the stems placed in carefully constructed layers on suitable rocks, which should not be more than two feet from the ground and should support layers of two feet in thickness. When thoroughly dry, in spring, the tangle is gathered together and slowly burned.

LITTLELANDS

Miss Hagenbush, of Los Angeles, is spending a vacation of two weeks here at her place on north Sunset boulevard.

Mrs. Morris of Long Beach has rented Mrs. Heald's place and expects to be here until September. She may purchase property and make this her permanent home.

Wednesday evening the usual conference meeting gave place to a business meeting of the Board of Managers of the Christian Federation.

Mrs. Noyes, of Pasadena, was the guest over Sunday of her friend, Mrs. B. Zachau, at her hillside ranch.

Bee Club Meeting

The regular meeting of the Bee club was held last Monday evening. The discussions were as usual, interesting and participated in by every one present. A number of the members were absent owing to several committee meetings.

About ten o'clock last Monday morning the bell at Bolton hall clanged the fire alarm and the people rushed from all quarters to aid in any way they could, but the fire had gained such headway that very little could be done. So the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed James lies in ashes. They had just built an addition not long since and were quite comfortably fixed. A fire is a great shock at any time and especially so to this couple, who are pretty well along in years. The fire started in some way from the gasoline stove. We understand there is some insurance.

A number of our people are enjoying tennis these vacation days. Every morning and evening the club house grounds are occupied by enthusiastic players.

Mr. George C. Buck reports that Mrs. Buck is not only holding her own but is gradually gaining in strength. She had a long siege of illness and it is to be hoped that her recovery will be rapid.

Mr. Wieman's building is making steady progress. His house will probably be the largest dwelling on the tract when it is finished.

Mr. Rose, who has been absent for some time from his apiary, owing to a severe illness, has returned. He reports that very little honey is being gathered by the bees because of the drought beginning so early this year.

The house on the Fitzgerald ranch and other extensive improvements on the place are being carried forward as rapidly as possible. There is also to be a new tenant house built as soon as the other is finished.

The Friday Morning Round Table met at the home of Miss Julia Culver, near Michigan avenue, last week. The usual interest was manifested in the book that is being read and in the discussion following. This morning the members met at Mrs. Hoffmann's home, where Mrs. Slavinski will assist as hostess.

Mr. Alex Meyer left Littlelands this week for Los Angeles, where he expects to attend the summer school.

The Ladies Aid will meet at Manzanita park next Thursday at the usual hour. Mrs. Chase, assisted by Mrs. A. A. Knight, will be the hostess of the occasion.

Announcement

C. F. Schwerer, a resident of Monte Vista, announces to the people of this valley that he has opened a watch, clock and jewelry stand at Littlelands Post Office, where he will attend to business every morning from 8 to 12:30. He is an expert in his line of business, with an experience of 25 years in Geneva and London. See ad elsewhere.

Misses Helen Atkinson and Mary Lewis of Littlelands were visitors in Los Angeles last Tuesday.

Miss Meyer, of Pine street, accompanied by her brother and wife and children, of Imperial valley, left Tuesday for the exposition at San Diego, where they visited for several days.

Rev. Motts of the Episcopal church spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson. He occupied the pulpit of the Christian Federation last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Taylor and daughter, from Long Beach, are sojourning in Littlelands for a week.

Mrs. Eaton and sister-in-law, Miss Eaton, of Redlands, were week-end guests at the J. B. Green home on Pine street. They were accompanied home by the Misses Helen and Alice Green, who visited in Redlands for a few days, returning the latter part of the week.

Volunteers are wanted Monday morning to help put the park in order for the Fourth.

Mr. Kempson

Word has been received by friends in the colony of the death last Friday of Mr. Kempson. Mr. Kempson was a quiet, unassuming, though very worthy man. The funeral occurred last Monday in Los Angeles. The family own a place on Greely avenue and have been residents of the colony.

The children who are to take part in the flag drill for the Fourth are to meet for practice this morning at 10 o'clock.

Town Meeting

As was anticipated the interest Tuesday night at the town meeting centered around the choice of a name for our town. It had been expected that the names would be presented at this meeting, any one to have the privilege of presenting a name and then time given, a week or two perhaps, for the list to be considered and then a final vote taken. This at least was the substance of the motion at the Board of Trade referring the matter to the town meeting. However, the majority of those present at the town meeting willed otherwise and the vote was taken at once after the list of names were presented. There were 26 in all and the majority of votes on the second ballot resulted in the name of Altavista being chosen.

The Woman's club had an important meeting last Wednesday afternoon to decide several matters of interest to the members. A report of the proceedings will probably be given next week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Deming Smith sent a letter to the town meeting expressing their choice of a new name for the town to be Altavista.

4th of July Celebration

The committee appointed by the Board of Trade to arrange for a 4th of July celebration announce that an all-day colony picnic will be given at Manzanita park with a program of contests, songs, picnic dinner, speeches, etc.

Entertainment Evening of the Fourth In the evening will be given an old fashioned party and patriotic program covering the period from 1776 to 1861. It is earnestly desired that the women of the colony appear in costume. A partial outline of the program follows:

The Making of the American Girl, Living Pictures (From the Christy pictures), with appropriate music. Group one: (a) Pocahontas, (b) Puritan Girl, (c) Revolutionary Girl, (d) Dixie Girl, (e) Miss Columbia. Group two: (a) Spirit of '76, (b) Betsy Ross and the Flag. Music. #### THE MICROSCOPE HABIT

"I suppose science is a great thing," said an old lady, with the doubtful tone of one venturing into unfamiliar regions, "and all these newfangled fashions of investigating is useful, but seems like we haven't much peace at our house since John's taken to looking at everything through a microscope. The water ain't pure, the vegetables is inhabited, and all the wholesome, comfortable things that we've enjoyed and been thankful for all these years is discovered to have specks and spots, till 'most everything is spoiled."

But the microscope habit is still worse when it invades the moral and spiritual realm. There are those so addicted to it that they are constantly turning the glass upon their fellows and all their doings and exclaiming over the defects that keen scrutiny can bring to light. The home life that looks so beautiful has its flaws, after all; the kind deed that is so helpful holds its alloy of selfishness. The one whose example stirs to emulation is far from perfect. There are mixed motives to be discovered, if one looks closely enough, in the teacher whose words thrill and uplift those about him. Friendship, philanthropy and faith, all are subjected to the ever-ready glass and all pronounced imperfect. The trouble with the microscope people is that they only spoil what we have; they never substitute anything better.—Selected.
